

Math Internet Resources for Parents and Students

- Math resources for families: <http://www.nctm.org/resources/families.aspx>
- Math tutoring, practice, and games: <http://www.math.com/parents/family.html>
- Video lessons on everything from adding whole numbers to calculus:
<http://www.khanacademy.org/>
- Practice each math skill with lessons and flashcards: <http://www.studyisland.com>
- Thousands of interactive arithmetic lessons and unlimited practice (by skill and grade level K-8): <http://www.aaamath.com/>
- Movies, quizzes, and activities on a variety of topics:
http://www.brainpop.com/free_stuff/
- Virtual manipulatives (interactive apps) used to develop conceptual understanding many math skills: <http://nlvm.usu.edu/>
- Math activities and games connected to Greg Tang's math books:
<http://gregtangmath.com/>
- Lots of very cool games that match all standards and have various levels of difficulty: www.mathplayground.com
- Great math puzzles: <http://www.kenken.com>
- Good resource for looking up definitions, examples and in some cases practices:
www.amathskidsdictionary