MobyMax

MobyMax is a site our district subscribes to which helps to identify students' learning gaps in both math and language arts.

www.gonoodle.com

A completely free site, gonoodle.com has hundreds of movement games and videos that get kids dancing, singing, jumping, stretching, and more. We use this site frequently in our classroom as a transition between activities or as a brain break to get our five- and six-year old wiggles out!
☺ You can create an account for each kiddo in your home!

www.tumblebooklibrary.com

Username: sgroveschool
Password: reads

Tumblebooklibrary provides an extensive library of animated talking picture books, chapter books, videos, non-fiction titles, and playlists for kiddos to enjoy!

www.abcya.com

ABCya provides lots of fun games for students in Language Arts and Math. Games are organized by grade level. The site is easily navigable for kids and is free if used on a desktop/laptop! (App has the same great games...but requires a monthly subscription fee!)

Our Favorite YouTube Channels

These are some YouTube channels our class (and my own kids!) love to use to practice our reading, math, science, and social studies skills! Just type in the name in the search browser at youtube.com!
